

GIRL KILLS FATHER, AGED 75, "TO PUT HIM OUT OF HIS MISERY"

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.—Anna Lee Stitzel, who shot and killed her father, William Stitzel, seventy-five years old, to relieve his sufferings, made three attempts to commit suicide to-day. While she knelt beside her father immediately after the

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

Catarrh is such an insidious disease, and has become so prevalent during the past few years, that its treatment should be understood by all. Science has fully proved that Catarrh is a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers, salves and nose douches seldom if ever give lasting benefit, and often drive the disease further down the air passages and into the internal organs. If you have Catarrh or Catarrhal deafness or head-aches, go to your drugist and get one ounce of Permut (Dougherty's). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved, take one tablespoonful 4 times a day. This will bring quick relief from the distressing head-aches, clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and mucus stop dropping into the throat. This treatment has a slight tonic action which makes it especially effective in cases where the blood has become thin and weak. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every person who wishes to be free from this distressing disease should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

shooting he said, "There, there, don't cry, I know you did what you thought best." Following her first attempt at suicide in her cell where she is being held on a charge of murder she was closely guarded. Her second and third attempts, made in the presence of guards, were easily frustrated. "I intended to kill father and brother John," she told the police. "I felt that I ought to, I did not intend to kill myself, but to take whatever punishment was given me."

"I shot father to put him out of his misery. It was nothing but an act of mercy," said the daughter in explanation of her act. Stitzel was a Federal veteran of the Civil War. The natural infirmities of age were affecting him and during the winter he had suffered considerably from rheumatism. Miss Stitzel is believed by physicians to be a victim of dementia. She underwent an operation not long ago, and was separated from her father during her convalescence. According to the hospital attendants she frequently attempted to leave her sick bed and go to him, saying she could not bear to know he was lonely. She is said to have been brooding over him for several weeks.

Stitzel had no warning of his daughter's intention. He was reading as, without saying a word, she fired the shot which ended his life. The girl is under custody at a hospital. Cutskill Boat Service Resumed. Business for the season has opened up on the Hudson, the Cutskill Evening Lines starting their freight service to-day and on the river to stay. Freight is being and will continue to be received at Pier No. 43, foot of Christopher Street, North River, New York, for Malden, Germantown, Canfield, Hudson, Coxsackie and intermediate landings, as well as points on the Albany Southern, Boston and Albany and New York Central Railroads.

SOCIETY BELLE ELOPES WITH SON OF EX-MAYOR

Connecticut Social Circles Stirred by Marriage of Emily King Bragaw and Andrew J. Bentley.

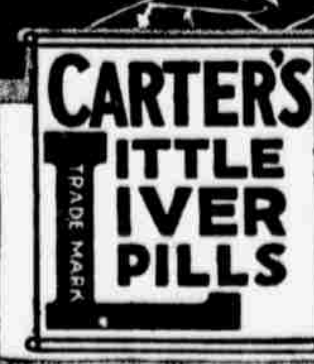

(Special to The Evening World.) NEW LONDON, Conn., April 8.—Society people were surprised to-day to learn that Andrew Jackson Bentley and Miss Emily King Bragaw were married at Haiti last Monday. The news of the affair had a deeper interest when it was made known that the young couple had eloped. The bridegroom is a son of the late A. J. Bentley, one time Mayor of New London, and had entered Cornell University only four months ago on a five-year course in forestry. The bride, a society belle, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bragaw, wealthy residents of Hartford, who have a summer residence here at Neptune Park. The Bentley residence adjoins the Bragaw cottage at the park, and it was there the young couple became acquainted. The elopement has been forgiven.

FORMER SOCIETY BEAUTY IS HABITUAL DRUNKARD

Mrs. Jennie De Grasse Monahan Is Committed to Institution After Being Arrested Many Times.

Jennie de Grasse Monahan, great granddaughter of Admiral de Grasse, one of George Washington's aides at the surrender of Cornwallis, and a former society beauty of Huntington, L. I., was adjudged an habitual drunkard by Magistrate Krotel in Harlem Court to-day and sent to the House of Mercy at Inwood for three months. William Childers of No. 61 East Eighty-sixth Street, an Assistant Corporation Counsel, who had been appointed to take care of what was left of a $500,000 estate left to Mrs. Monahan by her father, George Barclay Ward, said that he invented the income of the estate so that the woman received a weekly allowance.

Formerly a society beauty, Mrs. Monahan, through her craving for intoxicants, has been arrested more than twenty times. She was once the wife of Charles Welt, 204 West One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street. Her present husband is said to be a sea captain.
